English Lyric: Seiji Motoyama & Hayley Westenra

Through the rain the sunlight warms my heart
Fragrance sweet, a memory it calls from afar
Tears of joy flowing deep from my soul
All around, I can feel new life unfold

Up ahead, can't you see, fills the sky up above
Breathe the air, oh so sweet, all that I've waited for

Celebrate the new life that we see
I close my eyes and I feel you near to me
On this day a brand new song to sing
Thankful for all the gifts that spring will bring

Oh so dear, you hold a place in my heart
I feel you near, we've been too long apart
Through the years seasons promise anew
Loyal friend, 'til the end, I'll be waiting for you

Up ahead, can't you see, how the future unfolds
Breathe the air, oh so sweet, all that I've waited for

Celebrate the joyous days to come
On the green grasses we are free to run
I feel your touch and I can hear you sing
Thankful for all the gifts that spring will bring

Celebrate this young and fragile dream
Don't you know this is where I'll always be
As I walk along this lonely road
Your spirit it dances around me
Like a river that flows on endlessly
Like a flower the love you give to me

Celebrate the new life that we see
Close my eyes and I feel you near to me
On this day a brand new song to sing
Thankful for all the gifts that spring will bring

Celebrate the joyous days to come
On the green grasses we are free to run
I feel your touch and I can hear you sing
Thankful for all the gifts that spring will bring

Celebrate the new life that we see
Close my eyes and I feel you near to me
On this day a brand new song to sing
Thankful for all the gifts that spring will bring

Celebrate the joyous days to come
On the green grasses we are free to run
I feel your touch and I can hear you sing
Thankful for all the gifts that spring will bring

Lyrics: Takashi Matsumoto

Music: Hirai Natsumi

English Lyric: Seiji Motoyama & Hayley Westenra

I can still recall the time you said softly to me
That the deepest night gives into dawn
Staring out into the endless dark of night
The starlight was waiting for the morn

Through the pain, the sorrow all the things that life may bring
When I felt that I could not go on
You were always standing there by my side
Now I know I can be strong

From the darkest night the brightest morning has come
Sunlight falls upon us like a dream
Can't you feel the powers that bind me to you
The mountains to the deep blue sea

Tears of pain they suddenly turn into tears of joy
Like a gentle rain from up above
In the air the wind is blowing promises
Of peace and of everlasting love

All the pain, the hurt, the wounds they can cut so deep
Who'd have thought that we could feel so weak
But I do believe a force more powerful
Our love will conquer all

From the darkest night the brightest morning has come
Sunlight falls upon us like a dream
Can't you feel the powers that bind me to you
The mountains to the deep blue sea

Time has come, oh can't you see
Keep this world alive, it's the last chance for you and me

From the darkest night the brightest morning has come
Sunlight falls upon us like a dream
Can't you feel the powers that bind me to you
The mountains to the deep blue sea
The mountains to the deep blue sea
The mountains to the deep blue....sea
